

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cause doctors' bills many times this.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the most economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and insures perfect, wholesome food.

Used always in making the biscuit and cake it saves both health and money. Made from pure, grape cream of tartar, most healthful of fruit acids.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.,
CHICAGO.

NOTE.—You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade baking powders. They are mostly, in spite of the pure food laws, made from alum, which endangers the health. All physicians will tell you that such powders in food are injurious.

THANKSGIVING FOOTBALL.

Missouri and Kansas to Meet at Exposition Park, Kansas City.

The one day in every year set aside by the president's proclamation for Thanksgiving, turkey and football is almost here again. Thanksgiving and turkey are of general interest, and so is the football, for that matter, but the latter is of particular interest to the Missouri Valley since the annual Kansas-Missouri game is played on that date. As has been the case every year for exactly a decade, the battle will be waged on the gridiron at Exposition Park in Kansas City, and it will be the last football game ever played on the historic old grounds, for three days afterwards a real estate syndicate will succeed the present owners and the chalk ribbed gridiron that has already borne the blunt or ten interstate battles will be cut into town lots. For a time there existed a doubt as to whether it would be the scene of this year's game, as the land syndicate attempted to take possession of it by force. All this has been settled amicably, however, and the always interesting meeting of the Jayhawkers and Tigers will come off according to schedule.

It will be the customary clash of two teams typifying two states between which the feeling of friendly rivalry has become to intense as to border on animosity. The strife between the two commonwealths for the honor and glory of being foremost among the Missouri Valley States has been going on ever since the days "before de wah," but it has always been carried on with a courtesy befitting its dignity, for all the world like one of those meetings on the field of honor so common in our great grandfathers' time. The putting of the one state's representative football team against the other's discovered to the masses an opportunity to turn loose their animal spirits and give full vent to their feelings in the matter of the State of Kansas against the State of Missouri. It is for that reason that the annual football struggle is so popular an attraction. Missourians are glad of the chance to cast aside all conventionalities and try their strength, both of arms and lungs, against their old time rivals; while the Kansans are just as feasted to get the opportunity to play game of "give and take," with foes well standing. The contest is the safety valve by means of which they relieve the pressure of too much feeling. The crowds go to it not particularly to see a great exhibition of football, but to shout themselves hoarse for the "Old Gold and Black" or the "Blue and Crimson" as the case may be. They go to yell for their home state, and hoot at their rivals. They go to make a noise and they generally succeed.

As compared with the other teams of the two states, the Missouri and Kansas Varsity Eleven are not any too strong this year. In fact, they have both been beaten repeatedly and by some big scores at that, but when compared with each other they appear to be about as evenly matched as they were last year, when after battling for two long gruelling halves they both retired from the field with colors flying the score being 6 to 6. The best line on their relative strength is to be had by a glance at their respective scores against the Haskell Indians both of the games having been played recently. Haskell beat Kansas by a score of 18 to 5, and 9 days later, on last Monday to be exact, won from the Tigers by a total of 17 to 0. From this it would appear that it is about an even break between the rival university teams. K. U.'s having scored against the redskins would seemingly give the Lawrence team a shade the better of it on form, but on the other hand Missouri held the Haskell's better than did the Jayhawkers. The Braves made three clean touchdowns at Lawrence, while at Columbia they crossed the opposing goal line only twice; their other five points being made on a field goal. The Tigers' performance was especially praiseworthy since they had met the beefy Texas eleven just two days before. All in all the two teams that will meet in Kansas City on Thanksgiving day are apparently well matched, and as they always play as they never played before on that day, the prospects for a stubborn struggle are the best even if it will not be for the championship of anything in particular.

The business representatives of the two colleges have been sounding the railroad on the matter of special rates to Kansas City for the big football game. Heretofore, it has been the custom to give an excursion rate between the scene of the battle and all points within a radius of 100 miles, and the roads have practically promised that there will be no change in the custom this year, although no definite action has been taken on the matter and may not be. In a word, would-be visitors to the game can count on a reduced rate for transportation and a large number of out-of-town people will probably be on hand.

Tee game next Thanksgiving will mark the eleventh meeting of the Kansas and Missouri eleven on the gridiron at Exposition Park. They met for the first time on October 31, 1891, and each year since has seen a repetition of the great struggle. The game in '91 was an unofficial sort of an affair, but in 1892 the Western Intercollegiate Football Association was formed with Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska as members, and all the games since then have been played under its jurisdiction. Iowa deserted the association at the end of the season of '97, and since then the other three have been running along as a triangular league.

Up-to-date Kansas has had all the better of the argument with the Tigers. In the nine years that the league has been formed the Jayhawkers have won the championship four times, while the Misourians have not yet captured it the first time. As for the Thanksgiving day games K. U. has won seven of them, as against the Tigers two. The only tie was that of last year. The record of those games is as follows:

Won by Kansas—1891 Kansas 22, Missouri 8; 1892 Kansas 12, Missouri 4; 1894 Kansas 18, Missouri 12; 1896 Kansas 30, Missouri 0; 1897 Kansas 16, Missouri 0; 1898 Kansas 12, Missouri 0; 1899 Kansas 34, Missouri 6. Won by Missouri—1893 Missouri 12, Kansas 4; 1895 Missouri 10, Kansas 6. Tie game—1900 Missouri 6, Kansas 6.

An Afternoon Wedding.

A very pretty wedding took place in Lexington at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. John E. Robinson, on South street, the high contracting parties having been Mr. William H. Hackler, one of Lafayette county's prosperous young farmers, and Miss Mary McCord Kirtley, a niece of Mr. Robinson. The parlors at the Robinson home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, lending a most charming effect to the nuptial scene. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. V. Headen, pastor of the Edenview church. The marriage was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the directly interested parties.

Following the congratulations that were showered upon the bride and groom a wedding supper was served and on Thursday evening a reception was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hackler at the home of the groom's parents.

The newly wedded couple have the best wishes of the INTELLIGENCER.

Married at High Noon.

At high noon on Wednesday last, at the First Baptist church, Mr. William H. Rust and Miss Katie R. Wright, both of Richmond, were married, the ceremony having been performed by the Rev. Dr. Wharton, visiting evangelist, who is related to the groom.

The wedding march was played by Miss Alice Peak.

Mr. Rust is a business man at Richmond and came over to Lexington to claim his bride, who was the guest of her cousin, Miss Shaw, of this city.

Married at Kansas City.

Mr. Charles F. Eggenhoff, of Kansas City, and Miss Mary Weiss, also of that city, were married at half past 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Joseph Baehr. A number of guests were present and the bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable presents.

The bride resided in Lexington all her life with the exception of the past few years and is highly esteemed by all who know her. She has relatives residing here now, and the INTELLIGENCER joins them in wishing her well.

Born, at Dover, Mo., to the wife of J. L. Groves, Nov. 16th, 1901, a boy.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

Central Female College.

A delightful Pupil's Recital was given by the School of Music on Monday afternoon, the 18th, upon which occasion the following program was excellently rendered:

1. Sonata F Minor - Beethoven
a. Adagio.
b. Allegretto.
Miss Margaret Aull.
2. Song Without Words - Hoesel
Miss Frances McClure.
3. Scarf Dance - Chaminade
Miss Ethyl Theis.
4. Fruelingslied - Merkel
Miss Ethyl Wilson.
5. Vocal, The Flight of Ages
Miss Norman.
6. Papillon - Grieg
Miss Rupe.
7. Nocturne, G Minor - Chopin
Miss Edyth Harrison.
8. The Witches Dance - Tours
Miss Rachel Williams.
9. Violin Solo, Intermezzo
Miss Ouida Ramsay.
10. Madrigal - Lack
Miss Janet Westgate.
11. Vocal, Because I Love You,
Dear - Hawley
Miss Lillie Miller.
12. La Lisonjera - Chaminade
Miss Lydia Schaefermeyer.
13. Valse Arabesque - Lack
Miss Gennet Miller.
14. Peer Gynt Suite - Grieg
a. Morgenstimmung.
b. Ases Tod.
c. Anitra's Dance.
d. In der Halle des Bergkoenigs
Mr. Conrad and Miss Menefee.

At a former recital Miss Margaret Aull played the first movement of the Sonata, Op. 2, No. 1 by Beethoven; and in keeping with that performance she gave a technically refined and musical rendition of the Adagio and Mennet (the second and third movement) of the same composition.

Miss Lillie Miller made many friends with her first appearance at a recital, singing the familiar Hawley selection most admirably. The young lady has a voice of considerable power and pleasing quality, and her study will doubtless develop attainments gratifying to herself and instructor.

Miss Lydia Schaefermeyer played the Flatterer very clearly and quite in the spirit of the fanciful composition.

Miss Gennet Miller played the Valse Arabesque of Lack very acceptably and won the heartiest applause.

The Peer Gynt Suite, with its various movements characteristically played by Mr. Conrad and Miss Menefee was a suitable close to a delightfully varied and well executed program.

Attention, Democrats!

The Lafayette County Democratic Central Committee is requested to meet in the circuit court room at Higginsville on Friday, November 29th, 1901, at 10:30 o'clock, A. M.

Several matters of importance will be considered at this meeting and all members are urged to be present.
